

Which Language Class Should I Take?

French - 275 million global speakers, official language of 29 countries.	Spanish - 559 million global speakers, The official language of 20 countries.
Pro: Most International French is one of the official languages of the United Nations, European Union, NATO, UNESCO, the International Red Cross, and many more. If you are interested in pursuing an international relations major, French is the best choice.	Pro: The Sea of Information Spanish-speaking individuals have one of the largest demographics in the market. Spanish is one of the six official languages of the United Nations and a common asset in social service jobs.

The degrees of difficulty for language learning

The Foreign Service Institute (FSI) of the U.S. Department of State has a list of languages categorized by their difficulty for learning for native English speakers below.

French: Category I (23-24 weeks or 575-600 hours)	Spanish: Category I (23-24 weeks or 575-600 hours)
--	---

Opportunities available by language at Little Miami High School

	French	Spanish
Advanced Placement (AP)	X	X
Honor Society	X

When you choose which language elective to take, you can ask yourself three questions.

1. Do I want to learn this language?
2. Will this language help me pursue my passions or career interests?
3. Am I willing to spend enough time to become conversationally fluent?

Regardless of the language you choose, you will reap countless benefits, so start learning!